IN September, 1814, a Society was formed at New-Haven, by the name of the "Charitable Society for the education of indigent pious young men for the Ministry of the Gospel." It consists of members from different parts of Connecticut, and other states. An act of incorporation was obtained from the General Assembly of this State, in May, 1815. During the first year after the formation of the society, its funds were so deficient, that it was able to do very little towards accomplishing the object for which it was organized. But the second year, from September, 1815, to September, 1816, the contributions to the society were so liberal, that it afforded important pecuniary aid to twelve young men, who were then members of Yale College.

In March, 1815, another society was organized in New-Haven, by the name of "the Female Education Society." The object of this also is to furnish assistance to those, who, without adequate funds of their own, are endeavouring to acquire an education, with the intention of entering into the ministry. Both Societies have received contributions from other charitable Institutions. The constitution of each, and an account of their receipts and disbursements, are given in the following pages.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE CHARITABLE SOCIETY OF CONNECTICUT

FOR THE EDUCATION OF INDIGENT PIOUS YOUNG MEN FOR THE MINISTRY OF THE GOSPEL.

ART. 1. The object of this Society shall be, to furnish pecuniary assistance to indigent young men of piety and promising talents, intended for the ministry of the Gospel, in obtaining an education at Yale College; it being understood, that no persons are to be received under the patronage of this Society, unless they be really indigent, and that even such be required to make all suitable exertions to help themselves.

ART. 2. Any person who shall subscribe this Constitution, and pay annually a sum not less than one dollar, shall be a member of this Society, and shall be holden to make such annual payment, until by notice given to one of its agents, he shall withdraw from the Society.

ART. 3. Any person who shall pay at one time not less than twenty dollars shall be a member for life.

ART. 4. Any person who shall pay ten dollars at any one time, shall be a member for ten years; and if within that period he shall pay ten dollars in addition, he shall be a member for life.

ART. 5. Any person who shall collect ten dollars a year in behalf of the Society, may be a member.

ART. 6. A permanent fund, of which the interest only shall be expended, shall be formed by the payments made by members for life, and for ten years, from such sums as the donors shall appropriate to this purpose, and from a portion of the annual receipts, to be determined from time to time, by vote of the Society.

ART. 7. The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and Auditor. The Treasurer of Yale College shall, ex officio, be Treasurer of this Society. The other officers shall be chosen annually by ballot.

ART. 8. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to manage the funds, so as to render them productive; to pay out such sums as shall be ordered by the committee of appropriations; and to render to the Society an annual account of the receipts and expenditures, and of the manner in which the funds are invested.

ART. 9. The selection of the objects of patronage, and the appropriation of all monies, shall be made by a committee of the Society, to be chosen annually, and denominated the Committee of Appropriations.

ART. 10. The Committee of Appropriations, in selecting objects of charity, shall give a preference to the descendants of members for life, and of others who may have given a sum greater than twenty dollars; provided such descendants have the qualifications required in the constitution.

ART. 11. The following committees shall also be appointed annually, viz: A Committee of Supplies, and a committee in each associational district in this State.

ART. 12. It shall be the duty of the Committee of Supplies to devise measures for increasing the funds of the Society; to state its views to the public; and to make appeals to their liberality, in behalf of those for whom pecuniary aid is solicited.

ART. 13. It shall be the duty of the associational committees to promote the objects of the Society, within their respective limits, particularly by soliciting subscriptions and donations, and by encouraging the formation of auxiliary societies.

ART. 14. Any individual or association of persons, who shall pay one hundred dollars a year, may have the privilege of nominating a person, who shall receive the assistance of the Society, provided the Committee of Appropriations shall judge him worthy of its patronage.

ART. 15. If any person who has been assisted by the Society under the expectation of engaging in the ministry, shall decline entering on that work, he shall refund the sum expended for his education, unless, for some sufficient reason, the Committee of Appropriations shall release him from the payment.

ART. 16. There shall be an annual meeting of the Society, at New-Haven, on the day next succeeding the public Commencement, at 9 o'clock, A. M. unless otherwise ordered by the Society.

ART. 17. Any vacancy occurring among the officers may be supplied by the Committee of Appropriations till the next meeting of the Society.

ART. 18. The President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall have power to call a meeting of the Society, if it shall appear to him to be necessary.

ART. 19. Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum of the Society for the transaction of business.

ART. 20. Although it is the principal object of the Society to assist in educating young men for the ministry, yet, in compliance with the wishes of any donor, the amount of his subscription or contribution may be applied to the assistance of persons of good character and promising talents, without limitation to a particular profession.

ART. 21. This constitution may be altered or amended by a vote of three fourths of the members present at any annual meeting.

ART. 22. Adopted September 15th, 1815. Every beneficiary of this Society, destined for the ministry, shall be under the particular superintendence of the Committee of Appropriations; and it shall be the duty of that Committee to give to such beneficiaries, such counsel as they may deem useful; and particularly to require of each a written declaration, annually, of his continued purpose to devote himself to the Ministry of the Gospel.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

* The whole amount of the orders drawn by the Committee of Appropriations is 1184 dollars, 97 cents. But one order of 45 dollars had not been presented to the Treasurer for payment, when his report was rendered. All these orders were drawn for the benefit of the students patronized by the Society; as will be seen by the Report of the Committee.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The sum of money which the Committee had been enabled to appropriate, before the last report was rendered, was so inconsiderable, that it is thought best to comprise in this report all the facts from the beginning.

The whole amount appropriated from September, 1814, to September, 1816, is 1184 dollars, 97 cents.

Of this sum, only $90.97 were appropriated during the first year, leaving almost $1100 for the disbursements of the last year.

The Female Education Society in New-Haven have done much towards clothing the young men patronized by the State Society; and in this commendable work, they have been aided by the contributions, both in money and effects, of various female charitable societies, in other parts of the State. In various instances also, individuals have received their board gratis in private families in New-Haven.

There are in the college several individuals not destined for the Ministry, who have received aid from a charitable Society, existing among the students, and from other sources; but no one has received the patronage of the committee who has not both declared his intention to preach the gospel; and, who does not in the judgment of the committee give good reason to hope, that he will make a sound, discreet, and useful minister. The committee have not found reason in any instance, to believe that their confidence has been misplaced; and, they have observed, with peculiar pleasure, the strong marks of ingenuousness, modesty and truth, which have characterized the statements of the young men, when examined relative to their necessities, which they appeared in no instance disposed to exaggerate; but, on the contrary, difficulty has been experienced in drawing from them the whole extent of their wants. Careful enquiry has been made by the committee as to any personal resources either in possession or expectancy, which might aid the great object of educating the young men; and, circumstances of this kind have always been taken into account in the allotments of money which have been made. Of the 18 young men who have hitherto received the patronage of the committee, one is dead, and 5 have received their first degree. It is understood, that among those who have recently entered, or are expected soon to enter, this college, there is a large number of young men who will claim assistance. The continued liberality of the Christian public, which has already been so honourably experienced, is still necessary; much good is now doing, and much more remains to be done: for, although the disposable funds are not all exhausted, it is expected that the demands of the current year will be greater than those of the past.

NEW-HAVEN, September, 1816.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY.

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be styled the Female Education Society of New-Haven.

ART. 2. The object of this Society shall be to furnish assistance to indigent young men of piety and promising talents, in obtaining an Education for the Gospel Ministry.

ART. 3. Any person who shall subscribe this Constitution, and pay fifty-two cents a year, shall be a member of this Society, and shall be bound to pay the above sum till she shall signify her wish to withdraw, and shall pay up all arrearages; and any person who shall pay five dollars, shall be a member for ten years; and if within that period she shall pay five dollars more, or pay at any one time ten dollars, she shall be a member for life.

ART. 4. If any member shall neglect to pay her annual tax before or on the day of the general meeting, in each year, she shall pay twelve and an half cents in addition thereto, upon being called upon for the same.

ART. 5. A permanent fund, of which the interest only shall be expended, shall be formed of the subscriptions of members for life, and for ten years, and from other monies appropriated by the donors for this purpose.

ART. 6. All aid furnished to Students, whether in money, clothes or other supplies, shall be disposed of by the Directors at their several meetings according to their discretion: and fresh aid shall be furnished to such Students only, as shall be recommended by the Distributing Committee of the Charitable Education Society.

ART. 7. The Officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and eight Directors, who shall be elected at the annual meetings.

ART. 8. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Society, and to call special meetings whenever she or a majority of the members may think it necessary. In the absence of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the same duties.

ART. 9. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a list of the members, solicit subscriptions and donations, and record all the proceedings and votes of the Directors.

ART. 10. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to keep an account of all payments and donations, and from whom received, and pay the same over to the order of the Directors of said Society, and make an annual report of the state of the funds.

ART. 11. It shall be the duty of the Directors to manage the whole concerns of the Society in such a manner as shall to them seem most conducive to effect the object of the Society; and it shall be their duty to meet with the other officers once in three months, or oftener if they think necessary; and previous to the annual meetings of the Society, they shall appoint two of their number, whose duty it shall be to audit the Treasurer's account of each year.

ART. 12. The Society shall hold an annual meeting on the first Wednesday in July, at three o'clock, P. M. for paying their subscriptions, for hearing the report of the Secretary and Treasurer, and electing officers; for religious exercises; and for transacting any other business necessary to be done.

ART. 13. Any clothing which may be left on hand as not useful or proper for the young men assisted by the Society, shall be disposed of by the President and Directors to those persons from Owhyhee, who are here in pursuit of an Education, and who are entirely supported by charity.

ART. 14. This Constitution may be amended or altered by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at any general meeting.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The Committee of the Female Education Society, beg leave, on the present occasion, to report their proceedings; from its first organization in March 1815, until the 12th of September, 1816.

Our number of subscribers now amounts to 182: making our regular annual tax $94,64.

This is indeed an auspicious beginning; and it may be asserted with confidence, that no female association in this City has ever been equally blessed. As we had many charitable societies among us, our hopes of success were at first, by no means sanguine; but a liberality and zeal, as new as unexpected, were immediately displayed. Nor was this spirit confined to the limits of our own town. The plan of Female Education Societies, became, at once, extensively popular; and such societies, we understand, have been formed, in Hartford, Litchfield, Goshen, Stratford, Colchester, Norwich, Middletown, and Boston. Associations, for the promotion of the same design, have been formed in several places, which are not yet so regularly organized, as to denominate themselves Societies: and from the towns of Bethlehem and Stamford we have already received the fruits of their liberality and industry. The ladies of Norwich, Stamford, Colchester, and Charleston, (South-Carolina,) have sent their money to us; an account of which is given in the Treasurer's Report. The Litchfield Society have expended their money in materials for work; the avails of which we have regularly received, in such articles as are always necessary; from this Society, we have received articles of clothing to the amount, as is supposed, of not less than $100. We find it difficult, however, to state the precise amount received from each Society; because the packages have been numerous and sent to a great many different places. In consequence of this, our business has been rather more complicated the past year than it will be hereafter. As we have now one person to receive the articles forwarded, we shall be able, from this time, to publish regular accounts of the value of clothing received from each Society. From the Society in Middletown we have received articles to the amount of about $80; which have been deposited in the Ware-House for sale.

The Committee have held 16 meetings for the purposes of work, and of consulting, as they believe, the best interests of the Institution. They have made and repaired such articles of clothing as were wanted; and have also attended to the making of comfortable, bed-quits, and other articles of bedding. Fourteen young gentlemen have been regularly assisted by the Society. To these have been delivered, since its formation, articles of clothing to the amount of $264.60 according to the appraisal of those who were considered competent judges. Of these clothes, (among which are included a few articles of bedding,) most have been second-hand garments, repaired by the Society. Some of these have been of a superior quality, because we have made use of such as were given to us. In purchasing new cloth for any purpose whatever, we have sought that, which was considered merely decent, having more regard to durability than appearance. Some of the second-hand garments given to the Society have been exchanged for necessary work, particularly for washing. In justice to those whom we have had the pleasure of assisting, we would remark, that they have not only appeared satisfied, but sincerely grateful for every favour conferred.

By various little methods we find our funds constantly augmented. Plans, hitherto unknown among us, are continually devised for the promotion of the great object we have in view. When we look at the exertions every where making to publish the Holy Scriptures in all the languages of men; and connect these efforts with the revivals of religion in our colleges and schools, we are constrained to believe the formation of charitable societies, for the education of pious young men for the Ministry, to be no unimportant part of the great system of means, which is to bring forward the Latter Day Glory of the Church. In this single consideration, we find abundant motives to persevere, with unremitting diligence, in the work in which we have engaged.

The Committee, in the name of the Society, return their sincere thanks to the various associations which have so liberally assisted them in the prosecution of their design. And while they respectfully solicit a continuance of the same aid, they cannot but hope, that the time is not distant, when similar societies and associations will be found in every town and parish in the state: all uniting their efforts for the education of young men of piety to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ.

By order of the Committee,

SUSAN E. DWIGHT, SECRETARY.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

As Treasurer of the Female Education Society for Pious Indigent Young Men for the Gospel Ministry, I would now endeavour to discharge the duty of giving a statement of the Funds committed to my care, since this Society was first organized, which was the 16th of March, 1815. It was then proposed by the Constitution, that our annual meeting should be holden on the first Wednesday in July. Accordingly we met on the 5th of July, 1815, to receive the Annual Tax, and any new Subscriptions or Donations which might be made to the Society.

Of the above sums, according to the 5th Article of our Constitution, the subscriptions for life, and for ten years, go to make up a Permanent Fund ; which has been, by order of the President and Directors, vested in two Shares of the Eagle Bank ; for these they paid $208

For which, as has been stated above, they have received 9

They have also appropriated for the use of the Warehouse 50

The remainder of the Money has been disposed of for the benefit of the Young Men above specified, mostly for Clothing.

The Treasurer's Books are open to the inspection of the Society, or any individual who may wish to examine them for their own satisfaction ; as the limits of my Report would not allow me to be more particular.

After reading the Secretary's Report, which will accompany this Statement of the Funds, those Female Societies who have associated themselves with us, and cast their bounty into our Treasury, will see that their money is not lost ; and we hope not unwisely appropriated. We trust "the blessing of many ready to perish will rest upon them."

ELIZABETH WHITTLESEY, TREASURER.

The Society request all who feel disposed to aid them by money, clothing, or in any other way, to direct all such things to Mrs. MARY DWIGHT, President.

TO THE
AUXILIARY EDUCATION SOCIETIES,

AND OTHER CHARITABLE ASSOCIATIONS IN THIS STATE.

From the preceding Reports it appears, that the permanent fund of the Education Society of Connecticut is	$675
Do. of the Female Education Society of New-Haven,	200

875

The balance remaining of the Disposable Fund of the former, September 9th, was	$188 25
Do. of the latter, October 10th,	136 40

624 65

During the last collegiate year, from Sept. 1815 to Sept. 1816, there were appropriated, by both Societies, for the benefit of 13 or 14 Students, between 1400 and 1500 dollars; besides various articles of apparel, &c. from the Female Education Society, not purchased with their funds, but presented by other Societies or individuals. It is not improbable that an equal or greater sum will be wanted for the current year. But the balance on hand, according to the Reports of the Treasurers, is only 624 dollars 65 cents. To this may be added 52 dollars 50 cents, the annual interest of the permanent funds. For supplying the deficiency, our principal reliance is upon the auxiliary education societies, and other charitable societies, in different parts of the State. By recurring to the preceding Reports, it will be seen, that the greater portion of the disposable fund has hitherto been received from these beneficent associations, particularly from the female Societies.

To these, then, an appeal is now made, with a confident expectation that they will not disappoint the hopes which have been excited by their past liberality. There have been numerous applications for charitable assistance, from those who are desirous of qualifying themselves for the Ministry of the Gospel. Not wishing to apply for admission into college, without a reasonable prospect of support, they have requested to be informed whether adequate funds were provided by the Education Societies. They have been told that, till lately, the receipts have been scarcely sufficient for those who were already members of college, and that there is no great accumulation of capital, which can be pledged for future supplies: but that the attention of the Christian public appears to be awakened to the importance of raising up ministers, to meet the increasing demands of the churches; and that there is reason to hope that the bounty of auxiliary societies and individuals, which has hitherto been increasing, will be still further enlarged, till it shall be equal to the wants of all, who are qualified to receive it.

On the strength of these encouragements, several young men have ventured to come forward, and cast themselves on the education societies for support. Will you suffer their hopes to be disappointed? After having gone so far, shall they be compelled to abandon the purpose of obtaining an education? Shall they be told that, although their views are laudable, and the ministry into which they are desirous of entering immensely important; yet that the Christian community is either unable or unwilling to furnish the means of their support?

It is true, the calls on the liberality of Christians, at the present day, are numerous and urgent. It is not intended to set the object of the education society in competition with any other charitable purpose. All that is asked for, is a small portion of the bounty which has of late years begun to flow so freely from those who have the interests of religion at heart. It is not necessary that the individual donations should be large. It is the aggregate of small sums from numerous contributors, which sustains the important operations of most of the Missionary and Bible Societies in Europe and America. The stream which, in its progress, becomes a majestic river, is originally formed from inconsiderable rivulets and springs.

ART. 5. Any person who shall collect ten dollars a year in behalf of the Society, may be a member.

ART. 6. A permanent fund, of which the interest only shall be expended, shall be formed by the payments made by members for life, and for ten years, from such sums as the donors shall appropriate to this purpose, and from a portion of the annual receipts, to be determined from time to time, by vote of the Society.

ART. 7. The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and Auditor. The Treasurer of Yale College shall ex-officio, be Treasurer of this Society. The other officers shall be chosen annually by ballot.

ART. 8. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to manage the funds, so as to render them productive; to pay out such sums as shall be ordered by the committee of appropriations; and to render to the Society an annual account of the receipts and expenditures, and of the manner in which the funds are invested.

ART. 9. The selection of the objects of patronage, and the appropriation of all monies, shall be made by a committee of the Society, to be chosen annually, and denominated the Committee of Appropriations.

ART. 10. The Committee of Appropriations, in selecting objects of charity, shall give a preference to the descendants of members for life, and of others who may have given a sum greater than twenty dollars; provided such descendants have the qualifications required in the Constitution.

ART. 11. The following committees shall also be appointed annually, viz: A Committee of Supplies, and a committee in each associational district in this State.

ART. 12. It shall be the duty of the Committee of Supplies to devise measures for increasing the funds of the Society; to state its views to the public; and to make appeals to their liberality, in behalf of those for whom pecuniary aid is solicited.

ART. 13. It shall be the duty of the associational committees to promote the objects of the Society, within their respective limits, particularly by soliciting subscriptions and donations, and by encouraging the formation of auxiliary societies.

ART. 14. Any individual or association of persons, who shall pay one hundred dollars a year, may have the privilege of nominating a person, who shall receive the assistance of the Society, provided the Committee of Appropriations shall judge him worthy of its patronage.

ART. 15. If any person who has been assisted by the Society under the expectation of engaging in the ministry, shall decline entering on that work, he shall refund the sum expended for his education, unless, for some sufficient reason, the Committee of Appropriations shall release him from the payment.

ART. 16. There shall be an annual meeting of the Society, at New-Haven, on the day next succeeding the public Commencement, at 9 o'clock, A. M. unless otherwise ordered by the Society.

ART. 17. Any vacancy occurring among the officers may be supplied by the Committee of Appropriations till the next meeting of the Society.

ART. 18. The President, or in his absence the Vice President, shall have power to call a meeting of the Society, if it shall appear to him to be necessary.

ART. 19. Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum of the Society for the transaction of business.

ART. 20. Although it is the principal object of the Society to assist in educating young men for the ministry, yet, in compliance with the wishes of any donor, the amount of his subscription or contribution may be applied to the assistance of persons of good character and promising talents, without limitation to a particular profession.

ART. 21. This Constitution may be altered or amended by a vote of three fourths of the members present at any annual meeting.

ART. 22. Adopted September 15th, 1815. Every beneficiary of this Society, destined for the ministry, shall be under the particular superintendence of the Committee of Appropriations; and it shall be the duty of that Committee to give to such beneficiaries, such counsel as they may deem useful; and particularly to require of each a written declaration, annually, of his continued purpose to devote himself to the Ministry of the Gospel.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

Abstract of the Report of the Committee of Appropriations of the Charitable Education Society of Connecticut, for educating indigent pious young men for the Gospel Ministry—Accepted September 11, 1817.

This Society was formed in September 1814, but had scarcely begun to operate effectually till September 1815. In the first year ending at this time, there was appropriated

$90 97

In the second year ending September 1816,

1094

In the third year ending September 1817,

1605

Entire amount,

$2789 97

The two first sums, amounting to $1184.97 were distributed among the following persons :

*Reuben Clapp, Southampton, Ms.
Benjamin Nealy, Montpelier, Vt.
James Kimball, Fitchburgh, Ms.
Charles F. Butler, East Hartford.
Frederick Gridley, Watertown.
Loammi I. Hoadley, Northford.
Ralph R. Gurley, Lebanon.
David Kimball, Concord, N. H.
Charles Stewart, Brattleborough, Vt.
Lewis Weld, Hampton.
Jared Reid, Colchester.
James Abell, Lisbon.
Asa Thurston, Fitchburgh, Ms.*

This distribution gave an average of $91.14 for each person, but the money was actually appropriated in sums of various magnitude, according to the necessities and claims of different individuals.

The third sum of $1605, appropriated during the last year, was distributed among the following persons :

Benjamin Nealy,	} mentioned also in the first list.
Loammi I. Hoadley,
Ralph R. Gurley,
Lewis Weld,
Jared Reid,
James Abell,
and
Jeremy Parkhurst, Framingham, Ms.
Shadrach Terry, Riverhead, Long-Island.
Warren Abbott, Andover, Ms.
Nathaniel Pratt, Saybrook.
Zabdiel Rogers, Stonington,
Eleazar Brainard, Haddam,
Horace S. Pratt, Saybrook.

The average appropriation to each individual last year was $123.46, and the average from the beginning has been $107.30.

This inconsiderable sum would by no means have sufficed had not occasional aids been derived from individual gratulation and other sources ; and, more than all, from the Female Bazaar Societies. These institutions have been most essentially useful, especially in furnishing clothing ; and the local situation of the Female Society in New-Haven has enabled it to act as almsman for the rest, and to become acquainted with the wants of the individuals who are the objects of the public bounty ; this opportunity of extensive benefiness they have diligently used; and they, with their sister Societies, are worthy of all praise. No other persons than those mentioned in the two preceding lists have received any gratuity from the Society. Twenty in the whole have received its aid; of these one is deceased, seven have received the degree of Bachelor, ten are still in the course of their college education, and will continue to need more or less the assistance of the Society. A very considerable addition to this number is expected among those who will join the college at the commencement of the next term; and, as the disposable funds of the Society are exhausted, the claims on the benevolence of the Christian public are now peculiarly urgent; much active exertion is needed; and, after the happy experience already enjoyed, who can doubt that every proper claim will be admitted and that every necessary effort will be made?

The Society is fast becoming the means of extensive usefulness: the fruit reared to maturity, by its labours, is now beginning to yield a regular annual return; and it is devoutly to be wished, that this happy harvest may never cease, till preachers of the gospel shall no longer be needed.

In the selection of objects for the Society's bounty, the appropriating committee have had much reason to be satisfied with their choice, as embracing young men whose conduct is highly commendable, whose example and personal influence are eminently salutary to their fellow students, and who give fair promise of usefulness in the ministry.

Signed in behalf of the Committee.

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be styled the Female Education Society of New-Haven.

ART. 2. The object of this Society shall be to furnish assistance to indigent young men of piety and promising talents, in obtaining an Education for the Gospel Ministry.

ART. 3. Any person who shall subscribe this Constitution, and pay fifty-two cents a year, shall be a member of this Society, and shall be bound to pay the above sum till she shall signify her wish to withdraw, and shall pay up all arrearages; and any person who shall pay five dollars, shall be a member for ten years; and if within that period she shall pay five dollars more, or pay at any one time ten dollars, she shall be a member for life.

ART. 4. If any member shall neglect to pay her annual tax before or on the day of the general meeting, in each year, she shall pay twelve and a half cents in addition thereto, upon being called upon for the same.

ART. 5. A permanent fund, of which the interest only shall be expended, shall be formed of the subscriptions of members for life, and for ten years, and from other monies appropriated by the donors for this purpose.

ART. 6. All aid furnished to Students, whether in money, clothes or other supplies, shall be disposed of by the Directors at their several meetings according to their discretion: and fresh aid shall be furnished to such Students only, as shall be recommended by the Distributing Committee of the Charitable Education Society.

ART. 7. The Officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and eight Directors, who shall be elected at the annual meetings.

ART. 8. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Society, and to call special meetings whenever she or a majority of the members may think it necessary. In the absence of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the same duties.

ART. 9. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a list of the members, solicit subscriptions and donations, and record all the proceedings and votes of the Directors.

ART. 10. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to keep an account of all payments and donations, and from whom received, and pay the same over to the order of the Directors of said Society, and make an annual Report of the state of the funds.

ART. 11. It shall be the duty of the Directors to manage the whole concerns of the Society in such a manner as shall to them seem most conducive to effect the object of the Society ; and it shall be their duty to meet with the other officers once in three months, or oftener if they think necessary ; and previous to the annual meetings of the Society, they shall appoint two of their number, whose duty it shall be to audit the Treasurer's account of each year.

ART. 12. The Society shall hold an annual meeting on the first Wednesday in July, at three o'clock, P. M. for paying their subscriptions, for hearing the report of the Secretary and Treasurer, and electing officers ; for religious exercises ; and for transacting any other business necessary to be done.

ART. 13. Any clothing which may be left on hand as not useful or proper for the young men assisted by the Society, shall be disposed of by the President and Directors to those persons from Owhyhee, who are here in pursuit of an education, and who are entirely supported by charity.

ART. 14. This Constitution may be amended or altered by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at any general meeting.

REPORT

OF THE FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY.

As many societies auxiliary to the Female Education Society of New-Haven, have been established in different towns in this State, and as many individuals have expressed their warm interest in this Society, and their earnest desire to assist in its benevolent purposes, it has been thought advisable to publish the report of the proceedings of the committee for the year terminating July 2d, 1817.

In July, 1816, at a meeting of the committee, it was voted to change the name of the Society, substituting the name of Education, for that of Benevolent Society. At a general meeting in October, it was voted to alter the 6th article of the Constitution, as its meaning was ambiguous and induced many to believe this Society was dependent upon the gentlemen's Charitable Society. At this meeting it was likewise voted, to apply to the legislature for an act of incorporation ; which was applied for, and granted. The directors have held twelve meetings, for the purpose of making and repairing clothes, and transacting the necessary business ; and have endeavoured on these, and on all occasions, to promote as much as possible the true interests of the Society. In aiding the young gentlemen, those, and those only, have been assisted who have come recommended by the committee of the gentlemen's Society, among whom are the president and professors of the college: and their rules forbid them to assist any who do not furnish strong grounds to believe they will become useful and judicious ministers of the gospel.

The names of all the young men who have received assistance from this Society, since its establishment, are here subjoined.

Benjamin Neely, of Montpelier, Vt.
James Kimball, Fitchburgh, Ms.
Charles T. Butler, East-Hartford.
Frederick Gridley, Watertown.
Loammi I. Hoadley, Northford.
Ralph R. Gurley, Lebanon.
David Kimball, Concord, N. H.
Charles Stewart, Brattleborough, Vt.
Lewis Weld, Hampton.
Jared Reid, Colchester.
James Abel, Lisbon.
Asa Thurston, Fitchburgh.
Jeremy Parkhurst, Framingham, Ms.
Shadrach Terry, River Head. Long-Island.
Warren Abbot, Andover, Ms.
Nathaniel Pratt, Saybrook.
Zabdiel R. Rodgers, Stonington.
Horace S. Pratt, Saybrook.

The receipts for this Society from July 3d, 1816, to July 2d, 1817, amounted to $351,18: viz.

Donations and taxes in New-Haven,	$108 68
From the Female Society, East Windsor,	8 32
From the Education Society, Charleston, S. C.	100 00
From the Ladies Praying Society, Greenwich,	8 00
From the Education Society, Norwich,	57 38
From the Female Cent Society, North Guilford,	26 60
From Ladies at Somers,	1 00
From the Female Benevolent Society, East Windsor,	11 00
From Middletown, a Bed, and sundry other articles, valued at $57, and in money,	18 20
Dividend from Eagle Bank,	12 00
Remaining in the Treasury, July 3d, 1816,	90 52
Whole amount,	$441 70
Money expended for the benefit of the Students,	404 42
Remaining in the Treasury,	37 28
	$441 70

Of the above $37.25, $18 belongs, by the Constitution, to the permanent fund; which leaves but $19 for immediate use. For one year this institution was considered peculiarly prosperous. Liberal donations in money and clothing, were then frequently received; but for the last six months the receipts have been few and inconsiderable, and the necessities urgent and increasing. Many charitable societies, which, in a more favourable season, might have lent their aid, have felt themselves obliged to devote their money to the immediate relief of the suffering poor around them, whose numerous wants, in consequence of the cessation of business, and the inclemency of the past season, have strongly appealed to public and individual charity: to these causes alone, the present low state of our funds is obviously attributable. Surely the cause in which we have embarked has lost none of its importance. The waste places are not yet all built up. Many vacant churches are yet to be found, whose members are languishing for the want of a preached gospel. Great numbers of young men are earnestly desiring to become preachers of the gospel, and are only waiting for that assistance, which we have in a measure pledged ourselves to grant. Shall we suffer them to be disappointed, and their fond hopes to perish? or shall we exert ourselves, by every laudable method, to augment our languishing funds? When so many noble sacrifices are making, shall we refuse to open our hearts to give? or withhold our hands from working in so great a cause? Rather let us awake from this state of inactivity, and press forward, with renewed zeal, confidently believing, that our labours will be blessed, our most sanguine expectations more than realized.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

From July 2, to January 14.

The President and Directors of the Female Education Society, New-Haven, acknowledge the receipt of the following Donations, since their last Annual Report.

From a lady of New-Haven, several articles do.
From a Lady of New-Haven, a bundle of second-hand clothing.
From Woodbridge, a bundle of second-hand clothing.

The Ladies return their united Thanks for the kind assistance afforded them, by the above generous donations. They feel peculiarly grateful to those Societies who have furnished them with cloth, as their call for that article was never greater than at this season.

January 14, 1818.

To the Friends of the Cause which the Education Societies are aiming to promote.

As there has been some delay, in publishing the preceding Annual Reports; it was thought best to bring the accounts down to the present time, Feb. 1st. From the report of the Treasurer of the Connecticut Education Society, September 9th, it will be seen, that there was then a balance of about 890 dollars against the Society, for monies advanced by him. The amount since received has been little more than sufficient to replace that sum. A small appropriation has lately been made to four or five individuals. For the remaining 15 or 16 who are now here dependent on charity, there is not a cent in the treasury. Several of them, having looked in vain to the Society for assistance, have gone into the country to obtain a temporary support for themselves, by teaching school.

The Society, grateful for the smiles of the Lord on its past operations, solicits again the patronage of its friends. From this statement, it will be seen, that increased liberality is needed, to meet the expenses of the youths who are now relying on its aid. Without increasing charities, some of them must necessarily be diverted from their great object, or be left to attain it by struggling, unaided, with almost insurmountable obstacles.

Brethren, the Lord Jesus has enjoined it upon his friends, to exert themselves for the establishment of the ministry of the Gospel among all people, and to direct their prayers to the Lord of the harvest for the provision of suitable labourers. To those who realize the value of immortal souls and the necessity of the Gospel to their salvation, how desirable an object! Can we doubt, therefore, whether we are in the path of our duty, when aiding those in their preparations for the ministry, whom the Lord has furnished with requisite talents and Christian graces, and inspired with the desire of entering on the laborious office? When young men come to our college in order to prepare for the work, can we refrain the noble resolution? Let the decision be made, in view of our waste places, our extending settlements, and the benighted heathen; in view of the valley of death, the throne of judgment, an eternity of joy or woe.

REPORT

OF THE

Committee of Appropriations.

The Committee to whom the society has assigned the business of appropriating its funds, submit the following Report for the year, ending 10th Sept. 1818.

THE return of another anniversary of the Society, is a season, in which, they and the friends of the institution, pause, with propriety, to survey the general object to which they have been directing their efforts; the sum of effort which they have been enabled to contribute to the object; and by a sober estimate, determine on their duty in respect to future operations.

The benevolent societies of the present day generally, it is to be remarked, never pass through their anniversaries—seasons, as we may justly style them, of self-examination—but they rise, resolved as one soul, to pursue with new ardor, their various plans of usefulness. The reason is, the cause of beneficence is the cause of God, who is love. Efforts in such a cause bear reflection.

Brethren, let us look for a moment to that branch of christian beneficence, to which this society has devoted its efforts. The grand object pursued by this society, and sister associations then, is, to raise a number of able ministers, competent for filling up occurring vacancies in our older churches and par- ishes, for supplying the new formed churches in our rising settlements, and for converting the heathen world.

Our aim then is holy. We are cherishing that ministry of the word, which received its institution from the king of the universe, and which, though despised by the world as foolishness, is his appointed means of salvation. We are sympathizing with the holy Redeemer, when, casting the eye of compassion over the fainting multitudes of men, scattered abroad as sheep having no shepherd, he exclaimed to his friends: "Truly the harvest is plenteous; but the laborers are few." We are conveying to those, to whom he bequeathed it, the rich legacy which he left, when departing from the world: "Go—preach my gospel to every creature."

The cause, so holy, is one, too, which needs our efforts. The kingdom of God is ever established, in dependance on his aid, by human exertion. Nor are the wants which we are immediately aiming to supply, fictitious. Sober calculation shews, that even in regard to our older settlements, the number of clergymen educated at our colleges has been for some years decreasing, compared with the ratio of their increasing population.

Our western forests too, are rapidly falling before the tide of population. New towns, parishes and churches are forming, with a rapidity, characteristic of the enterprise of our countrymen. New fields are thus opening for ministerial labor; and a circumstance which should impel us to effort is, that these settlements are sensible of their need, and turn their eye and direct their voice to this very quarter for assistance.

The heathen world, another branch in the ultimate object of our charities, presents wide fields, whitening to the harvest. There millions lie desolate in spiritual darkness. The facilities opened by commerce, by European settlements, by missionary stations, and may we not add, by a special preparation of providence in the minds of the heathen, for the introduction of the gospel and the heralds of the cross into various pagan nations, present a loud call for the immediate preparation of able laborers.

To promote an object so noble, and to relieve wants so imperative, this society was instituted ; and during the few years it has been in operation, it has labored in the cause, with increasing effect.

The names of the persons who have received assistance from the society from its first establishment, were given in the last report. Your committee have, during the present year, added to the list, the following individuals.

George Sheldon, Aurora, Ohio.

Leonard Bacon, Hartford.

Frederick A. Brown, Colebrook.

William Case, Hartford.

Roswell Goodwin, New-Hartford.

David Greene, Stoneham, Mass.

Flavel Griswold, Greenfield, Mass.

Rodolphus Landfear, East-Hartford.

Samuel Whitney, Branford.

The appropriations during the year, have been made to the above individuals, and ten others, who were on the list of the year previous ; making in all nineteen persons.

The sum appropriated during the year is $1385;* and gives to each individual, an average of $72 90. The average appropriation to each individual last year, was $91 14 ; and the year previous, $123 46.

At the close of last year, it will be seen on our last report, the treasurer had advanced $390, to meet the orders of your committee, beyond the amount of receipts during the year. At their first meeting for appropriations this year, therefore, it was found, that monies, then received into the treasury, amounted to little more than enough to discharge this debt of the society to the treasurer ; and that in the mean time, the students dependant on their charity, had been incurring a debt which the society were wholly unable to meet. Your committee wished to appropriate for them, in order to relieve them from embarrassment, the sum of $800. At this time of embarrassment in the funds, the committee were obliged to anticipate the charities of the public. They however limited themselves, in their appropriations, to the sum of $310; and for the relief of the treasury, and contrary to the general wishes and intentions of the society, permitted some of their beneficiaries to interrupt their regular studies, by engaging in keeping school. The extraordinary call made on the public at this period, through the agents appointed for the purpose by the committee of supplies, was productive of a temporary relief from this embarrassment. They have to acknowledge, with gratitude, the promptness with which this call was met by a generous public. The cause, however, is one requiring persevering exertions, and calls upon its friends, if rich, patiently to shew themselves "rich in good works;" or if otherwise, "that their poverty abound always unto the riches of their liberality."

* This sum embraces the orders on the Treasurer, given by the Committee ; but all the orders have not been drawn. The fact accounts for the variation between this sum and the sum as it stands on the report of the Treasurer.

The whole sum, appropriated during the year, it will be seen, is $220 less than was appropriated last year. Notwithstanding the extraordinary measures adopted for the relief of the funds, however, the committee find themselves at the close of the year, in circumstances of embarrassment. A considerable sum is needed, to meet existing debts of individuals relying on their patronage.

The committee return their thanks to the Female Benevolent Societies, for their spirited exertions during the present year. The amount of their donations will be seen on the reports of the treasurer of this society, and that of the Female Education Society of New-Haven.

The economy, prudence, talents, diligence and piety, of the students now under their patronage, the committee, so far as they deem it proper to speak on the subject before the public, have the pleasure of mentioning with unqualified approbation.

The society has not been sufficiently long in operation, to present those pleasing fruits which we fondly anticipate from its labors. Time has not yet permitted us to point to beneficiaries, stationed in the vineyard of the Lord, and, with the souls of converted men around them, presenting the incense of gratitude to God for his grace, and to the society for their efforts. Meantime, the exercise of patience may be necessary, to press through the embarrassments necessarily attendant on the infant state of the institution.

What then, from this survey of the object we have undertaken to patronize, and the efforts we have, through a kind providence, been enabled hitherto to make, shall be our determination on entering a new year of exertion?

Shall we resolve wholly to forsake the enterprise? Shall we utterly abandon the institution? Forbid it, humanity; forbid it, consistency; forbid it, I had almost said, ambition. Others are engaged in the work. Sister societies have embarked in this high object; and if we will not reap the victories of this holy enterprise ourselves, the meed will be reserved for others. The cause will not be permitted to languish; for it is the cause of humanity and religion; the cause of Christ and of God.

Shall we still pursue the object, but in a cold and languid manner? Shall we hold up the institution, struggling, embarrassed, half alive, half dead? Brethren, we appreciate duly your past exertions. Some have given to their ability; yea more. The assistance which the society has enabled us to extend to the indigent, deserves our grateful acknowledgments. But shall the committee be left, when assembled to appropriate what is necessary for the subsistence of their beneficiaries, to be continually sending orders to an empty treasury; continually hesitating, whether to cast off the dear youth from their patronage utterly, or anticipate for them the charities of a benevolent public? Shall the institution be permitted thus lamentably to languish? Have you all given, permit us to ask, to the extent of your ability? Have you done all that you could, to procure the charities of others for this noble object of patronage? The committee would distinctly impress it on your minds, that more must be done than has been done, or the institution perishes. We cannot think that a society, excellent as this, will fail to have increasing opportunities of usefulness. More must be attempted and accomplished, than has yet been done. The committee are already looking to an increased number of applicants, of respectable talents, the honor of whose instruction they would be glad to secure to the society.

Shall we not then begin another year, with the resolution to foster, with increased patronage, an institution dear to God and man? Brethren, we ask not for a temporary impulse in our favor. We wish no sudden liberality that blazes forth at once and expires. On system, sacredly devote as much of your annual income to this object, as your diligence and economy, and the calls of sister societies, will permit you to furnish. Let it be a yearly offering—holy to the Lord.

Lose not the opportunity, now presented, of being vigorous supporters of a society, whose fruits may be yielded, most plentifully, during your life time; whose fruits will assuredly be, ere long, most abundant; and be known by you in the eternal world, accordingly as you now contribute, or refuse your agency to their production, to the joy or the grief of your hearts.

Signed, in behalf of the Committee,

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

The foregoing contains all the receipts by the treasurer, since his last report of Sept. 9, 1817, which, by the constitu-

Those persons mentioned in the foregoing account as paying ten dollars, to constitute them members for life, had previously paid ten dollars, as members for ten years.

* In the account of the last year, ten dollars was credited to disposable fund, as received by the Rev. Abel Flint, from some unknown benefactor. Since his last report, the Treasurer has been informed, that this sum was paid by the Rev. Nehemiah B. Beardsley, to constitute him a member for ten years. This sum is now charged to the disposable fund, and credited in the permanent fund.

In the Report of Sept. 1817, the books in the treasury were stated to amount to $145 66

There was a small mistake in this statement, as the books actually amounted to only, 144 94

Making a difference of 72

In the same Report, the money belonging to the permanent fund, was stated at 692

The true amount was 695 6

Making a difference of $3 6

This difference is made up of the foregoing error of seventy-two cents in the amount of books, and of sundry excesses in the price, at which several books had been sold above the price at which they were estimated, when given to the Society, amounting to $2 33 1-2 cents. In the Report of the last year, the books sold, except fourteen copies of the Young Minister's Companion, on which there was a loss of $1 87 1-2 cents, were taken as sold at the price, at which they were given to the Society.

STEPHEN TWINING, Treasurer.

New-Haven, Sept. 9, 1818.

FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY,

DURING the past year, the Directors have held seven meetings, for the purposes of refitting and making various articles of clothing, and of transacting the customary business of the Society. They have, during the same period, assisted in various proportions, twenty-three indigent Students of Yale-College, with such articles as they needed; all of whom have been recommended to their aid, by the Gentlemen's Charitable Society. The Directors have received during the same period, also, a variety of donations from different Societies and individuals: a list of which is here presented,

Articles of Bed-clothing, from individuals in
New-Haven,	$15
Do. from Norwich,	3

Clothing, from a lady of Lebanon,	75
Do. from individuals of New-Haven,	23 50
Do. from Female Edu. Society of Colchester,	6
From individuals in Mansfield,	16 42
From the Corban Society of Derby,	48 75
From Fem. Ben. Soc. Litchfield,	64 21
From Fem. Ben. Soc. Middletown,	64 95

Individuals in Norwich,	8 75
From ladies in Woodbridge,	6
A bundle from the Graham Society, Boston,	25
Received Stock from the Warehouse, in Goods,	43 91

$331 49

From this statement, the Society will perceive that the amount received in articles of clothing, during the last year, has greatly surpassed the receipts of previous years. To their numerous friends the Society would express their grateful acknowledgments, for the continuance and enlargement of their bounty. Instead of remitting their efforts to supply our destitute churches with suitable watchmen, they have only been invigorated in their laudable exertions: they have supplied fresh streams of charity to the indigent and pious; and have caused many hearts that otherwise would have bowed in despondency, to prepare themselves cheerfully for future usefulness in the Church. The gratitude of those who have been thus assisted in obtaining an education, must accompany their benefactresses, not only through the term of their collegiate residence, but through life. And here it is a source of great pleasure on the part of the Directors to state, that the young gentlemen, whose necessities have been supplied, have, as we trust, proved themselves not unworthy of the patronage of the generously minded, and the pious in our country. They have never intruded their wants or their difficulties on your Committee; but have patiently waited for that assistance which they needed, and which has been most cheerfully bestowed. And indeed, in some instances, from a reluctance to make known their embarrassments, they have suffered for a considerable period, without the knowledge of your committee. Your committee can assure the Society and its numerous friends, that these young gentlemen promise, by their behaviour, to be future pastors of worth and influence in our country. Your Secretary would also represent, that a number of young men are expected to present themselves during the ensuing year to the immediate care of your Society; that, although our means have been much increased, applications for assistance will also be much more numerous; and we would therefore renewedly solicit the continuance of that liberality which has so often awakened the gratitude, and removed the embarrassments of the necessitous. May we not confidently hope that these fountains of charity, which are now refreshing the thirsty soul, will continue to pour out their streams, till the earth shall be filled with righteousness and peace, as the waters cover the sea.

REPORT

OF THE

Committee of Appropriations.

The Committee of Appropriations of the Connecticut Education Society, submit the following Report for the year ending September 8th, 1819.

DURING the past year, there have been on the list of beneficiaries of the Society—in the Senior Class, James Abel, George Sheldon, and Shadrach Terry;—in the Junior Class Leonard Bacon, Chester Isham, Nathaniel A. Pratt, and Zabdiel R. Rodgers;—in the Sophomore Class, George Adams, Alanson Benedict, Nathaniel Bouton, Frederick A. Brown, William Case, Roswell Goodwin, David Green, Flavel Griswold, J. Anthony Hempstal, Rodolphus Landfear, and Samuel Whitney;—in the Freshmen Class, Spencer F. Beard, Horatio N. Brinsmade, Henry Benedict, George Carrington, Walter Colton, Asahel P. Mills, Solomon Lyman, Ithamar Pilsbury, Harvey P. Peet, John Todd, and Jared B. Waterbury.

For the benefit of these persons, the Committee have drawn orders on the Treasury, since the date of the last report, for $2,100.

This sum would allow, on an average, $72 41 for each individual; it has, however, been very differently appropriated, according to the necessities and claims of each beneficiary.

It will be seen by the Treasurer's report, that his receipts for the year have been $2080 99, and his disbursements $2,125 86. At the date of the last report, the amount of orders drawn by the Committee, which had not then been paid, and which were not included by the Treasurer in his disbursements for the year, was, $340. This sum is included in his report now published, and makes part of the disbursements for the present year. The amount of orders now drawn by the Committee, which have not been paid by the Treasurer, and do not appear in his account, is $455. Owing to the exhausted state of the treasury, the amount of orders drawn by the Committee, has been much less than the necessities of the beneficiaries of the Society demanded; and considerable debts have been contracted, which do not appear in the account. From this representation, the Society will see the importance of renewed exertions, if the object of their association is not to be abandoned.

In behalf of the Committee.

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

To the Connecticut Education Society, in Annual Meeting, Sept. 9th, 1819.

THE TREASURER RESPECTFULLY REPORTS :

A legacy of 500 dollars, left to this Society by Miss Elizabeth G. Talcott, of Wethersfield, has been received since the last annual report:

Mrs. Harriet Lewis, late of New-London, died in Paris, in December last, and left, to this society, a legacy of 2,000 dollars, which has been paid by her Executor, Wm. P. Cleaveland, Esq.

The permanent fund amounts to $1,625 20 which is 495 dollars 20 cents more, than at the last annual report.—If the society should think proper to appropriate the liberal legacies of Miss Talcott and Mrs. Lewis, to the permanent fund, a measure, which I ask the permission of the society to recommend to their consideration—the fund will amount to $4,125 20.

The aggregate receipts of the year, as will be seen by the foregoing statement, amount to	$2,080 99
The disbursements of the year amount to	2,125 86

Leaving a balance of 44 87 which the receipts of the year do not meet. Among the money recently received, a small sum is in notes of banks, on depreciated credit. There will arise, probably, a small loss from this source.

STEPHEN TWINING, Treasurer.

New-Haven, Sept. 3, 1819.

At the annual meeting of the Society, September 9th, 1819, the following votes were passed :

Voted, That so much of the annual product of the legacy of the late Mrs. Harriet Lewis, as the Committee of Appropriations shall, from year to year, judge necessary for the object, shall be devoted forever to the establishment of a scholarship in Yale College, to be called the Lewis Scholarship, and that a beneficiary of this Society from the senior class, be placed annually on this foundation, who shall be selected by the same committee on the ground of general reputation, established during a previous residence at college: Provided, That if in any senior class, there should be no beneficiary whom the same Committee may think proper to place on this foundation, the product of said legacy for that year, shall belong to the disposable fund of the Society: Provided also, That this vote shall be approved by the President and Fellows of Yale College.

Voted, That the income of every legacy not less than $500 be appropriated to the support of scholarships in Yale College, as far as it will go, and that the selection of the incumbents be made by the Committee of Appropriations, from the classes in the order of seniority, the senior class to be preferred.

Voted, That donations of $500, or more, be appropriated to the establishment of scholarships in Yale College, each scholarship to be established on the foundation of $2000, and the scholarships may be called by the names of the respective donors.

Voted, That the consent of the President and Fellows of Yale College be requested to the above resolutions.

Voted, That the Committee of Appropriations have power to apply to other objects, any excess of income arising from a scholarship, more than they deem necessary for the support of a beneficiary.

Female Education Society of New-Haven.

The Directors of the Female Education Society report,

THAT during the last year they have met frequently for the purpose of ascertaining and supplying the wants of those young gentlemen who look to this Society for aid, of whom the number is greater at the present time than at any former period. Those persons only have been assisted who were recommended to their attention by the President and Professors of Yale College; and they are happy to have it in their power to bear testimony, so far as has fallen within their observation, to the unexceptionable conduct of these beneficiaries. The Directors have received during the past year, considerable aid, particularly in clothing, &c. from various other Societies and individuals, of which the following, it is believed, is a correct statement, viz.—

From the Female Education Society of Litchfield, articles in bedding and clothing, appraised at	$78
From Female Benevolent Society of Waterbury, do.	44 75
From Female Benevolent Society of Middletown,	33 40
From individuals in Fairfield,	20 42
From ladies in West Greenwich,	100 37
From ladies in East Guilford,	13 3
From ladies in Guilford,	5 87
From ladies in Lyme,	4
From individuals in New-Haven,	46 37
From ladies in Lebanon,	5 20
From Norwich,	6 83
From a lady in Washington,	5
From ladies in West Haven,	32
From a lady in Windsor,	7 75

From a lady in Hartford,	6 50
From the Lydian Society of New-Canaan,	14
From ladies in Stratford,	2 25
From ladies in Griswold,	11 25
From Colebrook,	16 42
From the Corban Society, Derby,	25
From the Female Cent Society, Bolton,	4 34
From Salem,	2 34
From ladies in Woodbridge,	4 25
From Washington,	6 33
From the Little Mite Society, Stamford,	1
From the Young Ladies Education Society, Fairfield,	9 17
From ladies in Mansfield,	8
From New Coventry,	7 5
From a number of females in Millington,	3 33
From the ladies of the Committee of this Society,	9
Amounting in the whole to	$538 22

The above statement will shew that during the last year, the assistance received from abroad in bedding and clothing, has been greater, perhaps, than within any former year; and the Directors now renewedly offer their thanks to those Societies and Individuals who have so kindly co-operated with them. So great, however, have been the necessary expenditures of this Society for broadcloth, shoes, washing, &c. that its funds are now, as will be perceived by the Treasurer's Report, very much reduced; and so disproportioned were the bills for washing, particularly, to their means, that several ladies in New-Haven, voluntarily agreed to have it done alternately, for the present year, at their respective houses, and by this means they have already saved to the Society $113. Ladies in New-Haven have likewise given board, during the past year, to the amount of 178 dollars.

July 7th, 1819.

REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The Committee of Appropriations of the Connecticut Education Society submit the following Report for the year ending September 8th, 1820.

THE whole sum appropriated to the beneficiaries of the Society during the year, including the avails of the Lewis, and Noyes, and Talcot donations, is two thousand Dollars. This has been distributed, in unequal portions, among thirty-one individuals, making an average of $64 52 to each. The beneficiaries, in the Senior Class, are Leonard Bacon, Chester Isham, Nathaniel A. Pratt, Zabdiel K. Rogers;—in the Junior Class, George Adams, Alanson Benedict, Nathaniel Bouton, William Case, Roswell Goodwin, David Greene, Flavel Griswold, Rodolphus Landsear, Samuel Whitney; in the Sophomore Class, Spencer F. Beard, Henry Benedict, Horatio N. Brinsmade, George Carrington, Walter Colton, Solomon Lyman, Asahel P. Mills, Harvey P. Peet, Ithamar Pillsbury, John Todd, Jared B. Waterbury;—in the Freshmen Class, Milton Badger, Samuel Bissel, Gurdon Hayes, Stephen Peet, Dudley Phelps, Judson A. Root, and Joseph Whiting. The appropriation to Samuel Whitney, was a few days subsequent to the last year's Report; soon after which, he took a dismission from the college, to join the Mission to the Sandwich Islands.

Though the number of beneficiaries the past year, has been greater than in any preceding year; yet, from the exhausted state of the Treasury, it has been necessary to reduce the appropriations. Notwithstanding the exertions which the young men have made, by teaching schools, and in various other ways, to procure the means of support for themselves, they are still left in debt. In some instances, it is to be feared, their efforts to carry forward their studies, and at the same time to defray the expenses of their education, have been greater than their constitutions could sustain. Several are now absent, on account of ill health. A reduction of the number of beneficiaries is unavoidable; unless, in some way or other, more adequate provision can be made for their support.

In behalf of the Committee,
JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

To the Connecticut Education Society, the Treasurer respectfully reports:

That about a year since, Mrs. Elizabeth Alvord, late of Winchester, died leaving to this Society most of her estate, which was the earnings of her own industry. Although the amount of this legacy is small, the Society will highly appreciate, and gratefully remember the liberality of this lady's disposition, which has bestowed upon them nearly her all.

From Mr. Levi Platt, the executor of Mrs. Alvord, the Treasurer has received, in cash,	$84 12
In a note of James O. Pond, dated Oct. 12, 1819, and payable three years from date, with interest,	15
In cloth and articles of clothing,	38 25
Total amount,	<hr/> 137 37

The Treasurer has great satisfaction in being able to adorn his report, and gratifying the Society with an account of another instance of female liberality to this institution. Mrs. Mary Ann Noyes, Widow of the late Doct. John Noyes, of Lyme, has left this Society a legacy of one thousand dollars, in stock of the Eagle Bank in New-Haven, which was duly transferred to the Society in January last, by her executor.

There has been paid into the Treasury during the last year, to constitute persons members of the Society for life and for ten years, $270

The particulars of which, are as follows:—

From a young lady in Exeter, 1 pair of stockings, 1 cravat	83
From a lady in Hartford, 1 pair of stockings	1
From a lady in Saybrook, do.	67
From a young gentleman in New-Haven, 1 surtout	9
From Mrs. Swift, Derby, sundry articles	5 79
From a lady in Canaan, do.	2 70
From ladies in Torrington, 30 yards of blue woollen cloth	60
From ladies in Trumbull, 3 sheets, 1 pillow case	7
From a lady in New-Haven, 1 yard and 3-4 flannel	2 18
From another lady in New-Haven, 1 waistcoat	1 50
From ladies in Middlebury, sundry articles	9 75
From several ladies in Mansfield, do.	17 53
From ladies in Griswold, do.	6 68
From Stonington Retrenchment Society, 1 bed quilt, necklace, and box	8 37
From the Corban Society, Derby, 4 pair woollen stockings	3
From an aged lady	46
From a gentleman in Durham, 1 surtout, 1 pair of gloves	3 50
From Ladies in Goshen, 6 pair stockings, 1 blanket	6 80
From a lady in New-Haven, 2 shirts, 1 pair of shoes	4 50
From a lady in Derby, several articles of clothing	16

From a lady in New-Haven, do.	1 56
From a gentleman of New-Haven, 1 hat, 2 vests	2 73

From the Female Praying Society of Orford Society, East Hartford, and from a lady in the same place, 6 pair of socks, 1 pair of woollen stockings	2 52

$439 08

Of the above articles, together with those heretofore received, there remains on hand, 20 bed-quilts 154 pair of woollen stockings, a few pair of thread stockings, and 13 pair of mittens and gloves.

The committee would mention, also, that during the past year, much assistance has been rendered to the Society by several ladies in New-Haven, in having washing, tailoring, &c. done at their respective houses, and by boarding beneficiaries, to the amount of $230; and that several of them continue in this way to afford them aid: yet they regret to be compelled to add, that they have been obliged, in their expenditures, to exceed their receipts, and in some measure to anticipate the annual taxes of the ensuing year for the supply of their immediate necessities. It is earnestly hoped that those who realize, in some degree, the importance of this Society, and hear the repeated and increasing calls for faithful ministers, both in our own country and among the heathen, particularly when they notice the success which has appeared to attend the efforts made at the present eventful period, will not, on any account relax their exertions, but will be excited to renewed diligence in promoting the education of pious young men for the ministry. 'The harvest, at the present time is truly plenteous, but the labourers are few. May the number, through our instrumentality, be greatly increased: and if we exert ourselves, from right motives, to promote this desirable object, we have the assurance of unerring truth, that our labours shall not be in vain; for the declaration of Revelation, and the ways of Providence, unite to assure us, that exertions made to promote the Redeemer's cause on earth, shall be blessed. Bring ye all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open to you the windows of Heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room to receive it.' May we, relying on the fulfilment of this promise, bring our time, our exertions, our money to His service, knowing that He will assuredly bless us; 'for He hath said, and shall he not do it? He hath spoken and shall he not make it good?'

Our receipts have not been as great this year by more than two hundred dollars, as they were the last. Our number of young men have increased, and we now owe for shoes $30 more than we have money in the treasury to pay. We hope, therefore, that every one will feel it her duty to come forward with renewed engagedness to aid every way in her power in this good work; for without our hands are strengthened by the funds increasing, or in some other way, the Society will droop, and we fear, die.

REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The Committee of Appropriations of the Connecticut Education Society, submit the following Report for the year ending September 19, 1821:—

THE whole sum appropriated to the beneficiaries of the Society during the year, including the avails of the Lewis, and Noyes, and Talcott donations, is two thousand six hundred and forty seven dollars. This has been distributed, in unequal portions, among forty-three individuals; making an average of $61 58 cts. to each.

The beneficiaries in the Senior Class, are—George E. Adams, Alanson Benedict, Nathaniel Bouton, William Case, Roswell Goodwin, Flavel Griswold, Rodolphus Landfear, William Lester, Oliver A. Shaw;—in the Junior Class, Henry Benedict, Horatio N. Brinsmade, George Carrington, Walter Colton, Solomon Lyman, Asahel P. Mills, Havey P. Peet, Ithamar Pillsbury, John Todd, Jared B. Waterbury;—in the Sophomore Class, Milton Badger, Samuel Bissell, Edwin Brewer, Gurdon Hayes, Hiram W. Husted, Norman Pinney, Stephen Peet, Dudley Phelps, Judson A. Root, Joseph Whiting;—in the Freshman Class, Hiram P. Arms, Eliab Brewer, Elijah Carter, Samuel H. Fletcher, Austin O. Hubbard, William E. Hurlburt, Amasa A. Hayes, Justin Marsh, George Nichols, Bennett F. Northrop, Dennis Platt, Lyman J. Spalding.

Talcott and Noyesscholar for 1819-20, Leonard Bacon;—for 1820-21, Nathaniel Bouton. Lewis scholar for 1819-20, Chester Isham;—for 1820-21, Oliver A. Shaw.

The Committee had last year occasion to state, and they have now to repeat, that although the number of beneficiaries the past year has been greater than in any preceding year, yet, from the exhausted state of the Treasury, it has been necessary to reduce the appropriations. Notwithstanding the exertions which the young men have made, by teaching schools, and in various other ways, to procure the means of support for themselves, they are still left in debt. In some instances, it is to be feared, their efforts to carry forward their studies, and at the same time to defray the expenses of their education, have been greater than their constitutions could sustain. A reduction of the number beneficiaries is unavoidable, unless, in some way or other, more adequate provision can be made for their support.

In behalf of the Committee,

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY FOR THE YEAR ENDING JULY 11TH 1821.

The Committee of the Female Education Society of New-Haven, respectfully report:

That they have met frequently during the past year for the purpose of ascertaining the wants of the beneficiaries of the Society, and of supplying those wants as far as the means within their controul would allow, by procuring clothing, furnishing beds and bedding, &c. and that in general they have been enabled, although the number of those who are in some measure dependant on their exertions has continued to increase, to render them such assistance as they sought for. The applications which have been made to the managers by the students, appear in all cases to have been prompted by necessity. Various contributions and donations have flowed in from many other societies and individuals, and from these sources, principally, has been derived the means of supplying the wants of the beneficiaries.

The following is a statement of donations, received since the last report, in clothing, &c. appraised as follows:

From the Female Benevolent Society in Killingworth	34 46
From Ladies' Reading and Benevolent Societies in Guilford	28 87
From the Stonington Retrenchment Society	2 20
From the Female Benevolent Society in Middletown	11
From the Female Benevolent Society in Harwinton	18 41
From ladies in Middlebury	6 8
From ladies in Salem	17 07
From ladies in West Greenwich	37 32
From a Gentleman in West-Greenwich a broadcloth coat	8
From ladies in Washington	14
From the Female Benevolent Society of Litchfield	14 55
From a gentleman in New-Hartford	7
From a lady in Litchfield	3 34
From the Female Charitable Society in Millington	18 14
From ladies in Woodbridge	3 83
From a lady in Derby	1 33
From ladies in Bridgeport	3

From ladies in New Canaan	40 33
From ladies in Colebrook	8 12
From ladies in Chester	5 80
From the Female Benevolent Society of Waterbury	50 33
From the ladies in Green's Farms	8 34
A widow's mite	75
From ladies in Mansfield	12 50
From ladies in Hartford	44 7
From ladies in North-Killingworth	3 84
From the Treasurer of the Education Society, 2 yards broadcloth	10
From Mrs. Tracy of Mount Pleasant in Penn.	6
From a lady by Mrs. Whitney	2 88
From Miss Cooke's school, New-Haven	1 50
From individuals in New-Haven	27 45
Bequeathed to the Society by Mr. Gilbert Dow, articles of clothing valued at	35
From a female friend of this society	11 40
From individuals in New-Haven, by boarding beneficiaries, washing, cutting and making clothing, boarding tailoresses, room rent, &c.	442 88
	<hr/> 939 85

There are remaining in the hands of the Chief Manager a considerable number of bedquilts and woollen stockings, but the call for thread stockings and shoes are numerous, and assistance in this way, particularly, would be gratefully received by this society for the use of the beneficiaries. Articles of clothing, bedding, &c. which may hereafter be sent, it is requested, may be appraised by the donors. In making our annual report we would not omit to mention that several of the young gentleman whom we are endeavouring to assist while preparing for the Ministry, have during the last year, laboured with industry and zeal to instruct and lead the children and youth in this place, into the paths of useful knowledge and piety. The blessing which has attended our exertions for the prosperity of this Society, ought to excite our gratitude and animate us to new diligence in this and every other good work; and while we recollect that two, whom we have heretofore assisted, have gone forth as Heralds of Salvation unto the isles of the sea, and look abroad and see the fields white to the harvest, and the labourers few; and hear the calls from almost every quarter of the world for faithful Missionaries of the cross of Christ; surely we ought to pray with fervour and importunity, agreeably to our Saviour's direction, that he would send forth labourers into His harvest, and endeavour in every possible way to promote this most desirable object.

July 11, 1821.

REPORT
OF THE
COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The Committee of Appropriations of the Connecticut Education Society, submit the following Report for the year ending September 1822 :—

THE whole sum appropriated to the beneficiaries of the Society during the year, including the avails of the Lewis, and Noyes, and Talcott donations, is 2,710 dollars.

This has been distributed in unequal portions among thirty-nine individuals, making an average of $69 48.

The beneficiaries in the Senior Class are—Henry Benedict, Horatio N. Brinsmade, George Carrington, Walter Colton, Solomon Lyman, Asahel P. Mills, Jared B. Waterbury. In the Junior class—Milton Badger, Samuel Bissell, Edwin Brewer, Gurdon Hayes, Hiram W. Husted, Stephen Peet, Dudley Phelps, Norman Pinney, Judson A. Root. In the Sophomore Class—Hiram P. Arms, Eliab Brewer, Elijah Carter, Samuel H. Fletcher, Amasa A. Hayes, Austin O. Hubbard, William Hulbert, George Nichols, Bennet F. Northrop, Samuel Perry, Dennis Platt, Theophilus Smith, Lyman Spalding, Chauncey Wilcox, Dexter Witter. In the Freshman Class—Ebenezer Boyden, Abner Clarke, Augustus Cowles, David A. Grosvenor, Charles R. Sherman, Stephen Topliff, Edward Royall Tyler.

The number of beneficiaries has been so great the past year, that notwithstanding the exertions which the young men have made in various other ways to procure the means of support for themselves, they are still left much in debt—and the committee are obliged again to state that a reduction of the number of beneficiaries is unavoidable, unless, in some way or other, more adequate provision can be made for their support.

In behalf of the Committee.

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY

OF NEW-HAVEN.

The Secretary of the Female Education Society of New-Haven would again present her annual Report to the Society.

During the last year the labours of the Directors have been exerted for the accomplishment of the benevolent object for which they are associated. About forty young men, who are students at Yale College, and who are looking forward to usefulness in the Gospel ministry, have been assisted. The wants of the young men were urgent, and by the liberality of the public they have been supplied with clothing.

The ladies have assembled frequently, and have consulted relative to the most economical and prudent methods of using the funds which have been placed under their care. They have occupied themselves in making, altering and repairing the clothes of these students : and they trust the property put into their hands has been turned to the most profitable account.

After reviewing the labours and results of the year, the directors have reason to thank God and take courage. As much good has been done every year since the formation of the Society, so it is hoped that all the benevolent, particularly the ladies of Connecticut, will not forget an association which is established solely for the relief and assistance of those pious young men who are endeavouring to obtain an education for the ministry, and at the same time are obliged to struggle with poverty ; but that they will remember them, not only by continuing their donations, but by seeking their welfare and commending them to Him whose blessing maketh rich and addeth no sorrow thereto.

The following is a list of the donations received from various Societies and individuals during the last year, in clothing, bedding, &c.

NEW-HAVEN, SEPT. 1, 1823.

STEPHEN TWINING, TREASURER.

of New-Haven.

In July, 1816, the Female Education Society held their first annual meeting. Through a kind Providence we are permitted to witness its 8th anniversary, and we feel that the success which has hitherto crowned its efforts, demands our gratitude to that God who is the Author of all its prosperity.

The ladies to whom the direction of this Society is committed, have met frequently during the past year for the purpose of preserving a lively interest in all its concerns, and to consult upon the best measures for extending its usefulness.

The Report for 1817 states the receipts of that year to be	$331 49
For 1822	1737 05

This increase was rapid and encouraging. From July 3d, 1822, to July 2d, 1823, the following donations in bedding, clothing, &c. have been received from various Societies and individuals :

From ladies in New-Milford, sundry articles valued at	$27 16

Whole amount	$1089 90

The receipts of the present year being $647,06 less than those of the preceding. The interesting enquiry arises whence this deficiency? Is it that our object has lost any of its importance, or that our obligations are in any degree lessened to that Being who gives us all things richly to enjoy, and who has commanded us to send the gospel to every creature.

Is it that the vacant churches in our own land are all supplied with faithful pastors; that the missionary is no longer needed in heathen lands; or that no pious youth are found who are willing to go forward and preach "Christ and him crucified" to a perishing world? The true answer to these enquiries affords no reason for a diminution in our funds, but rather urges the necessity of a continued increase.

The claims upon our patronage are constantly enlarging; between thirty and forty young men are now depending upon us for assistance; the number of vacant churches in our country is multiplying, and the calls for missionaries of the cross in heathen lands is daily becoming more urgent.

Let us then look at our own hearts, our own efforts, and our own prayers, and see if these will not afford an answer to our enquiry, and awaken us to a lively sense of that duty which we owe both to God and man.— Let us with humility admit the melancholy truth that hitherto we have been unfaithful servants, and resolve that henceforth actuated by those pure motives which the gospel inculcates, we will do with our might whatsoever our hand findeth to do in the service of our divine master.

SUSAN W. INGERSOLL, Sec'y.

Report

OF THE

COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

THE Committee of Appropriations of the Connecticut Education Society, submit the following Report for the year ending September, 1825.

The whole sum appropriated to the beneficiaries of the Society, during the past year, including the avails of the Lewis, and Noyes, and Talcott donations, is 855 dollars. In addition to this, loans of small sums have been made, to beneficiaries of the Senior Class.

The beneficiaries in the Senior Class have been, Ebenezer Boyden, Eber Carpenter, Abner P. Clark, Charles B. Sherman, Stephen Topliff, Edward R. Tyler, William H. Whittmore, and Asher H. Winslow.

In the Junior Class, James D. Chapman, David A. Grosvenor, Samuel Hassard, Ephriam T. Sturtevant, and Julian M. Sturtevant.

In the Sophomore Class, Walter H. Bidwell, Zebulon Crocker, Ebenezer Denison, Mason Grosvenor, William Kirby, Samuel Lee, and George Perkins.

In the Freshman Class, David Q. Bartlett, Romulus Barnes, Flavel Bascom, William Bushnell, Joel T. Case, Frederick W. Chapman, Orson Cowles, Aaron H. Dutch, Alvah Steele, and William Wolcott.

It will be perceived that the appropriations to beneficiaries have been less than usual. This has been owing to the low state of our funds; and to discharge the expenses, which have been unavoidably incurred, as well as to render adequate assistance to the young men who have thus far advanced in their academical course, and look to us for aid, we must rely upon the patronage of those benevolent societies and individuals who have hitherto made us the almoners of their bounty.

Unless such assistance is received, we fear that a reduction of the number of our beneficiaries will be unavoidable.

In behalf of the Committee.

JEREMIAH DAY, Chairman.

S. TWINING, Treasurer.

NEW-HAVEN, SEPT. 1, 1825.

FEMALE EDUCATION SOCIETY OF NEW-HAVEN.

To the Female Education Society of New-Haven, their Committee present the following Report :—

THE number of students assisted by the Society since the last annual meeting is 33. They have been furnished with bedding, clothing, &c. so far as the little means of the Committee would allow.

Since the formation of the Society in 1815, the calls upon its charity have been continually increasing, and for the first seven years there was a regular and encouraging increase in its resources. In the year 1822, the receipts in money and clothing amounted to 1737 dollars. But when we look at the amount of donations from July 1822, to the present time, we perceive, that though the number of beneficiaries has been increasing, the contributions of our friends have been gradually diminishing, and that the receipts of the past year have amounted to little more than half the receipts of 1822.

The reasons of this deficiency we are at a loss to assign. Is it that the cause has lost any of its importance? Or is it that the hearts of the christian public are becoming insensible to the claims of the destitute? To our churches the destitute parts of our land are looking for pastors "to break unto them the bread of life," and the question arises, shall they look in vain? But to send abroad the Heralds of the cross they must be educated at home, and the friends of the church must educate them. And shall the necessary efforts and contributions be withheld because we are weary in well-doing? Do not the friends of this Society feel sufficient interest in its prosperity to make exertions without hesitation? Who would be willing in this stage of its operations to abandon the object? Has it not been seen and felt by the friends of the Society that annual patronage and exertion are necessary to continue its operations, and to accomplish its designs? And are there not many who have not yet patronized this Society, who will consider the magnitude of its object, and cheerfully contribute for its support?

If we consider only the good which has resulted from the influence of the beneficiaries upon the students of our College, it ought to be a sufficient reward for all our exertions. But their influence is not confined within the walls of College. It is diffused through our city, and through the country. And shall this influence cease for the want of a little exertions on the part of the friends of Education Societies—the friends of humanity?

Let the members of this Society feel that the cause in which they are engaged is the cause of God: let them feel their dependence upon Him, and prosperity will crown their efforts.

Report

OF THE COMMITTEE OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The whole sum appropriated to the Beneficiaries of the Society during the year, including $170 from twelve ladies in Hartford, is $790.—This sum has been distributed among the following individuals :—

In the Senior Class, James D. Chapman, David A. Grosvenor, Asahel P. Mills, Ephraim S. Sturtevant, Julian M. Sturtevant.

In the Junior Class, Walter H. Bidwell, Zebulon Crocker, Ebenezer Denison, Mason Grosvenor, William Kirby, Samuel Lee, Ephraim Simonds.

In the Sophomore Class, Mason Ball, Romulus Barnes, David E. Bartlett, Flavel Bascom, William Bushnell, Joel T. Case, Frederick W. Chapman, Orson Cowles, Henry Gleason, Alfred Newton, Alvah Steele, William Wolcott.

In the Freshman Class, John W. Fowler, and James M'Clean.

THE income of the Society during the past year, compared with its income during some former years, exhibits a deficiency alarming to the friends of religion and of learning.—The cause of this deficiency cannot be found in any change of public sentiment respecting the object of our institution ; for the best evidence has been given that this object has lost none of its importance in the view of the great majority of enlightened Christians and patriots. It cannot be found in any disposition of our fellow-citizens to distrust the principles on which our operations have been conducted ; for these principles have ever been open to the scrutiny of all, and for twelve years they have received the general approbation of such as have examined them. One principle on which we have proceeded, and from which some other societies, either by their locality or their efforts at universal co-operation are precluded, is to secure for every beneficiary the best advantages of education instead of leaving it for him to find the cheapest—a principle which commends itself to those who feel it to be important to elevate the character as well as to increase the number of educated ministers. Another principle, (in respect to which some other institutions have not chosen to follow our example,) is to secure for every beneficiary all the time for the prosecution of his studies, and all the freedom from pecuniary embarrassment which the bounty of the public will allow—a principle which those who know how to sympathise with the aspirations and the sorrows of a young man struggling after usefulness, will not lightly call in question.

If then the cause of this deficiency cannot be found in any change of public sentiment respecting the object of our institution, or in any distrust of the principles of this Society ; we may be justified in saying that the deficiency must be ascribed to the fact that for several successive years, the friends of this Society have felt less of individual responsibility, and have consequently made fewer efforts than formerly. We therefore call on every individual member and friend of this Society, to use his influence with the friends of our object, that our cause may never fail to prosper.
